

Lambert named Business Leader of the Year

By BILL MEDLEY

Courier & Press staff writer 464-7519 or medleyb@courierpress.com

Saturday, February 3, 2007

Sally Rideout Lambert, community relations manager of Alcoa Warrick Operations, will be named the University of Evansville's Delta Sigma Pi Business Leader of the Year at an awards luncheon Feb. 15.

The annual award recognizes an area professional who has exhibited leadership through commercial, civic and cultural activities, and has exemplified high ethical and professional standards.

Rideout Lambert, a 1991 graduate of UE, joined Alcoa in 2002. She also manages Alcoa's regional charitable giving.

She was previously with the Metropolitan Evansville Chamber of Commerce, where she served as vice president of government relations.

In 1994, she was elected to the Indiana House of Representatives for District 74, becoming the youngest woman to ever be elected to the House.

The Feb. 15 luncheon begins at 11:30 a.m. in the Bower-Suhrheinrich Room at UE. Reservations are $30 and can be made by calling 488-1013.

The Business Leader of the Year award has been presented annually by the Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity since 1981. Past recipients include Stephen Golsby (2006); Rick Geissinger (2005); Linda White (2004); Steven Chancellor (2003); and Larry Dunigan (2002).